Keynote Speaker

Richard Booth, BScN, MScN, PhD,

Richard Booth is an assistant professor at the Arthur Labatt Family School of Nursing (Western University, Canada) and adjunct professor at the Institute of Health Policy, Management and Evaluation (University of Toronto, Canada).

Over the last five years he has presented nationally and internationally on a variety of health technology topics, including the use of social media for health(care) purposes, and nursing education approaches facilitated by technology.

His research and teaching interests include health informatics, social media technologies, and psychiatric-mental health nursing. In addition to his research and teaching responsibilities, he continues to practice clinically as a psychiatric-mental health nurse in the Treatment and Rehabilitation program at St. Joseph's Health Care London (Canada).
