

Participants Needed...

...for a Study about Primary Care Physicians' Views on Methadone Maintenance Treatment

A researcher from Saint Mary's University would like to speak with primary care physicians about their views toward providing methadone maintenance treatment in community-based primary care settings.

You may be eligible to participate if you are a physician who currently provides medical services in community-based primary care settings in Halifax and the surrounding area. You do not need to prescribe methadone currently to participate.

Participants will take part in a 60-minute interview, and will receive an honorarium to help defray the loss of patient income.

If you are interested in participating or would like further information, please contact the Principal Investigator, Dr. Jamie Livingston at:
