You can make a difference

Support the QEII's Department of Urology

Caring for patients at the QEII Health Sciences Centre.

Every year, the QEII's Department of Urology receives between 25,000 - 30,000 patient visits from Nova Scotia and other parts of Atlantic Canada. The department cares for conditions including urologic malignancies (kidney, prostate and bladder), voiding dysfunction and kidney stone disease. Each case is different, yet staff and physicians provide each patient with the same outstanding care. To do this, they depend on having access to the latest technology and equipment, continuous education and training in the most current urological practices, and funding for the department's active research programs. They depend on the support of people like you whose generosity makes it happen.

Your gift to the Department of Urology will help ensure patients continue to receive the care they deserve.
