

Financial Support Services

From debt and credit to divorce or retirement planning, solid financial planning doesn't have to be complicated. Shepell-fgi's Financial Support Services are available for you and your family for both the everyday and more complex financial concerns.

Leave the stress behind; take control of your future with a range of support services and professional advice through your Employee Assistance Program (EAP).

Professional financial consultations offer in-person or telephonic advice regarding your financial concern. Industry professionals are carefully selected to ensure thorough and timely assistance. Consultations are available during normal business hours, free of charge and strictly confidential.

The Online Financial Planning Service is convenient, personalized and interactive. Learn more about a range of financial subjects and explore the built in interactive tools; plug in your own personal financial details in to worksheets and calculators to create an accurate picture of your situation. With three-month access, you can work confidentially online at your own pace to set your financial goals to assist in creating a solid financial future.

Should you need more personalized or specific financial advice, you will be provided with referral information to find a professional best suited to address your specific needs. Fees for services obtained through the referral are not covered and will be your responsibility.

Through Shepell-fgi's Financial Support Services, you and your family will gain valuable insight, information and build a financial plan by exploring the following topics:

- Credit/debt management
- Budgeting
- Bankruptcy
- Financial aspects of separation/divorce
- Financial emergencies
- Retirement planning
- Employment transitions
- Real estate

Make sense of your financial future with the Financial Support Services available with your EAP.
