Do you or someone you know have Epilepsy?

If you or your partner/family member is an adult living with epilepsy, the Epilepsy Association of Nova Scotia (EANS) wants to hear from you!

EANS is conducting a survey to determine how to better serve adults with epilepsy and their families. Please tell us about your experience with EANS, and which services or programs you would find helpful.

The survey can be found at the following address until March 31, 2014:
